How to select the correct generator

1. Identify the appliances you wish to operate.
2. Determine the wattage of each item; remember that for some types of motors the start up wattage can be 2-3 times higher than the running wattage.
3. Total the wattages of the items to be run.
4. Compare against the continuous power rating of the generator.

Continuous rating of generators:

1.0 Kva: 750 Watts
 2.8 Kva: 2300 Watts
 4.0 Kva: 3300 Watts
 5.0 Kva: 4200 Watts
 6.5 Kva: 5350 Watts
 8.5 Kva: 7000 Watts

Remember: check the appliance data plate for wattage rating.

All generators apart from the 1.0 Kva come complete with 110/230v dual outlets.

The above ratings are only approximate
